Meighen (then only 18 years old, but later a distinguished army officer and patron of the arts, etc.), to a friend in Perth, Ontario. In the letter, Meighen discusses the collecting of Stamps, Notes and Eggs(!), and enquired about the availability of the Perth Bell notes, on behalf of a renowned "authority on coins" in Montreal. (2) an early mimeograph(?) of the article "The W. & J. Bell (Perth, Upper Canada) Fractional Currency", dated March 5, 1930 and signed by the Archibald M. Campbell (grandson of Captain William Bell); (3) an October, 1942 letter to "Mr. Campbell", referencing an article in the Perth Courier, speaking briefly on his/her family connections to Perth, and seemingly confirming a donation of two Bell notes to the recipient's museum. (4) an original newspaper clipping on the Bell scrip entitled "Founders of Perth Made Money Easily", date unknown but seemingly 1930's or 1940's. Although not a scholarly lot, an interesting group of archival material for the serious Bell scrip enthusiast, with the Meighen letter being of some historical note in its own right.	$20-$50

Macdonald to his Private Secretary, Sir. Joseph Pope. In ten lines of clear text (excluding full signature at bottom), the Prime Minister requests with some urgency that Pope attends the Bank of Montreal on morning opening, to arrange for the covering of a $600 cheque written by his wife, Lady Macdonald, that is seemingly at risk of being returned. Written on "EARNSCLIFFE, OTTAWA" stationery, a Victorian manor and home to the first Prime Minister, with lovely clear writing, a pair of vertical and horizontal center-folds crossing at center, and clean fresh paper other than light browning around edges where the matting meets the paper. A rare and desirable artifact of Canada's first Prime Minister, with an unusually personal financial subject-matter. Remarkably, in the uninterrupted custody of the recipient's family for the past 135 years, and worthy of some serious bidding.	$3000-$4500
